Rise Mzansi

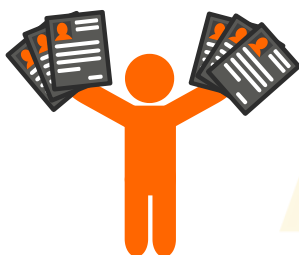

Electricity

- Support a balanced, green energy mix. Coal should steadily decrease as a primary energy source. Solar, wind and energy storage should be scaled.
- Accelerate the shift to a more decentralised energy system – one which all citizens can directly participate in and benefit from.
- Once the electricity crisis is resolved, all low-income households will be provided with free electricity between 9am and 3pm each day.

Employment

- RISE Mzansi will adopt a multi-disciplinary and multi-sectoral approach to improve basic education outcomes, and to provide skills training opportunities to those without skills, whether they have matric or not.
- Prioritise placing dysfunctional municipalities in major economic nodes under administration until they meet basic Auditor-General standards.

Rise Mzansi Manifesto Summary

Employment

- ensure that regulations are easy to understand, licensing or regulatory approvals are efficient; and such regulations and licence conditions are strictly monitored, with appropriate sanction for transgressions.
- Make the economy more inclusive by supporting black people and women to create wealth through productive enterprise
- Support anchor industries to achieve higher growth rates, and support the rapid development of secondary and new industries.
- Invest in human capital, technology and innovation.

International Politics

- Advance Africa's development, peace and security, independence, unity and regional integration.
- Support the protection and advancement of human rights across the world.
- Advocate for global governance reforms to reflect the perspectives of African and developed countries in international decision-making.
- Strengthen the African Union's (AU) capacity to resolve conflicts in Africa to achieve human security, peace, stability and development

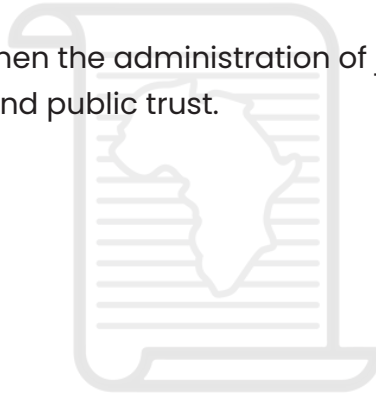

Rise Mzansi Manifesto Summary

Crime

- Professionalise and equip the police to improve their ability to deter and investigate crime
- Improve the effectiveness of policing to detect crimes, arrest criminals and build prosecutable cases
- Resource the police and courts to successfully prosecute priority crimes
- Emphasise social and health support, rather than punishment, for substance abuse offences.
- Will strengthen the administration of justice to improve access, efficiency and public trust.
